

CHAMPION AUTO SPEEDER PUNISHED BY HARSH WORDS

This Is What He Did. Fined $100 a month ago for speeding. Pleading guilty to-day to second charge. Has been arrested many times for racing in city. Warned that he had better behave. Advised to sell his automobile. Spoken to severely by Justice of Court.

Harold O. Binney, a member of the bar practicing law at No. 1 Rector street, who has in a few months earned a place in the foremost ranks of New York's automobile speeders, to-day pleaded guilty in the Court of Special Sessions, before Justice Russell, Moss and Fleming, to a charge of burning up space in Sixth avenue, early on the morning of December 22 last. He was released under suspended sentence although previously convicted of a like offense.

The worst punishment imposed upon Binney to-day proved to be a few harsh words from the Justice. Justice Moss said:

"I know you, Binney. You got up early in the morning and speed about town just to get people talking about you. You think you are a big man, but you've got to cut it out."

Justice Russell said:

"We don't want to see you in this court again except as an attorney appearing in a case."

Justice Fleming dissented from his associates and advised Binney to sell his car.

BINNEY THOUGHT JUSTICES OUGHT TO BE LENIENT.

Binney's defense was that he was running on only second speed, making "but twenty-two miles an hour." He thought the Justices ought to be lenient, he said, because he was convicted a month ago for another speeding offense, at which time he was fined $100. He had no money, said Binney, at that time, although he is rated as being wealthy. He sent his watch out to be pawned in order to pay the fine. When he left court to-day there was a broad smile on Binney's face.

Harold Binney began to attract the attention in January, 1912, when with several companions he abandoned his yacht, which went ashore during a gale off Atlantic City, and dashed through breakers to land aboard a small boat. The following March found him on the front of an insane asylum in Philadelphia, from which he escaped by means of a writ of habeas corpus declaring relatives had abducted him and railroaded him to the restraint of an asylum. In March, 1911, he was arrested in Philadelphia for reckless driving and when taken to the police station a loaded revolver was found in his possession.

On the last day of that month he was back in New York and in the West Side police court charged with reckless driving. He was fined $10 and on the face of the check he offered in settlement of the fine he wrote the words "Paid under protest." This affront to the Court resulted in Magistrate Barlow ordering Binney placed in a cell, but later the lawyer paid a fine with cash. Just before Christmas last he was arrested for speeding his automobile in Fifth avenue early on Sunday morning. On Jan. 19 last Binney's $5,000 automobile was found deserted on Riverside Drive. It was taken in charge by the police, and later when the lawyer claimed the machine he could not understand how he had been so careless as to have mislaid the car.

IN TWO COURTS FOR SPEEDING IN ONE DAY.

About this time Binney was in two police courts on the same day and when fined in the second tribunal, he which he was accompanied by a young woman, Assistant District Attorney Dickinson declared that Binney was a menace to human life and he said that he would be as high as possible. Binney was fined $100, which Binney later forfeited.

When Binney was placed on trial in the Court of Special Sessions last month he edited the court with his philosophy of speeding. This was something to the effect that the faster you go the fewer you kill. At that time policemen gave testimony that Binney drove his speeding machine directly at them. A man speeding in this case Binney was fined $100.

Early in the present month Binney's little daughter, Constance, applied to Surrogate Cochran to have her father removed as her guardian declaring he had endangered her life trying to induce her to ride with him in his automobile.

On March 8 Binney announced his marriage to Miss Elise Martin of London.

STOLE MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Man Arrested in City Hall Was Telling Them at Reduced Rates.

Committing a burglary for the purpose of obtaining a batch of marriage application blanks was the unique charge on which a man who said he was Samuel Robinson of No. 74 East Fourth street was arrested in the City Hall Marriage Bureau to-day. Robinson was observed by John Anichini, Italian interpreter attached to the Bureau, for a grating. He had grabbed a bundle of application blanks and had then offered them for sale to waiting couples in the corridor of the City Hall, demanding 25 or 50 cents for each blank.

A number of the purloined blanks were found in Robinson's pockets. He was locked up, protesting that he did not realize that he was violating the law.

Gray Hair Turns Its Natural Color After Applying Sage Tea.

Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens Beautifully and Takes Off Dandruff.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, but it's usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair, and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair.

Folk like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can positively tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly, says a well-known downtown druggist. You dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments. By morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever.

CUSTOMS OFFICIAL HELD IN $3,000,000 FRAUD IN DRESSES

Government Alleges Conspiracy Between Him and Modiste, Also Under Arrest.

Simultaneously with the arraignment of Kate A. Brennan, a Fifth avenue modiste, before United States Commissioner Shields here to-day, Terence L. McAneny, formerly a deputy customs collector and now holding a minor position in the service in Boston, was arrested in that city. These two prisoners are charged by the Government with a conspiracy that, in all its ramifications, is said to have netted fashionable dress-makers in this city $3,000,000 in the last three years.

The arrests following an investigation that resulted in a raid on the establishment of C. Donovan, No. 23 East Fifty-fifth street, last Friday. The system hatched was most ingenious, say the authorities, yet very simple. The plan was for buyers to go to Europe and return under different names, with baggage listed under some name not appearing on the passenger list. When the owners of the baggage could not be located, the customs official in the plot passed labels declaring the trunks inspected and in due time the trunks found their way to the dressmaker in the conspiracy.

Miss Brennan was held under $5,000 for an examination next Thursday.

AFTER WALL ST. BUILDINGS.

McAneny Authorized to Remove Obstructions Over Legal Line.

The Board of Estimate to-day authorized Borough President McAneny to invade the Wall street district and attack all building projections which extend beyond the building line. All outside of the building line is the property of the city and projections interfere with sidewalk traffic, the Borough President told the Board.

Reaver, Whitehall, Pearl, Wall, Cedar and Pine streets and Exchange place are some of the old-fashioned streets of the financial district to be visited by the McAneny axemen.

BOY PUGILIST SLAIN IN A LODGING HOUSE ROW WITH LAD OF 16

Morris Jaffe, an eighteen-year-old prize fighter in the smaller clubs, whose ring name is Joe Jackson, was shot and killed in a lodging house at No. 211 East One Hundred and Twenty-third street this afternoon, according to the police, by William Johnson, a sixteen-year-old youth who lives there. Jaffe died in Harlem Hospital without making any statement, and Johnson, when arrested, declared that the shooting occurred accidentally during a friendly scuffle.

Fred Egan of No. 157 Third avenue, notified the police of the East One Hundred and Twenty-third street station of the shooting. When an ambulance from Harlem Hospital arrived at the lodging house the surgeon found Jaffe sitting, unconscious, in a chair in the room occupied by Johnson; but Johnson was not there. After Jaffe had been removed to the hospital Johnson came in, professing ignorance of the shooting.

Under severe examination by the policemen he finally admitted the shooting, they say, saying that after it occurred he had run to the East River and hurled the revolver in the water. Johnson did not explain why he should have held a revolver in a "friendly scuffle," and he was locked up, charged with homicide.
